THE HISTORY OF MEADOWBANK

Before becoming a sports centre, the grounds were used by the Edinburgh Monarchs in 1948 as a motorcycle speedway arena, which is now an outdoor athletics track.

Meadowbank Stadium was built for the 1970s Commonwealth Games, which was one of the most successful in the history of the event. After also holding the 1986 Commonwealth Games, it became the first venue to host the Games twice. Since then, Meadowbank has accommodated a vast array of memorable sporting and music events, the last one being Elton John in 2016.

After being at the heart of sport and physical activity for almost 50 years, Meadowbank was closed for a full rebuild in 2017, re-opening to the public in June 2022.
